

Evolution of Gas Chromatograph

Shimadzu Corporation, the professional manufacturer of gas chromatograph for more than 60 years

Shimadzu has been developing and manufacturing gas chromatograph products for more than half a century in its development over 140 years. Excellent tradition and outstanding quality has been continued to today, so that Shimadzu has continuously launched a variety of GC application systems to meet the needs of customers.

It is because Shimadzu has always been adhering to the "spirit of craftsmanship", and the combination of solid technical capabilities that "Japanese ingenuity" is more well known.
